New York Stock Market

New York, August 22.—Speculation falled to maintain to-day the brisk pace set yesterday, although the recent gains were well held. In the absence of definite news from Mexico and with no striking development in any other quarter, incentive for active trading was lacking. The approach of a triple holiday tended still further to curtail dealings.

Bears attempted to depress the list at the opening, but the market was too strong for them. With Smeiting, Steel and the Coalers in the lead, highest prices of the present movement were reached. Later in the day, owing to realizing and the weakness of a few stocks, the list moved slowly downward, with increased heaviness toward the close, which in many cases eliminated the earlier gains. American Ice, which lest a large part of its recent rise, Missouri Pacific, New York Central and New Haven showed heaviness.

Sentiment remained hopeful, despite the failure of the market to continue on its upward course, and builtship inclined traders maintained that the market was in a better position than it had been for some time.

Improvement of the investment market is indicated not only by the broader demand for standard dividend-paying shares, but in the ready absorption of recent bond and note offerings. Although no figures regarding subscriptions to Union Pacific's holdings of Southern Pacific will be available until next week, the success of the offering was said to-day to be assured.

Known movements of currency for the week indicated a smaller cash loss for the banks than was expected on account of gains from the interior cutting down the apparent loss to about $4,000,000.

The bond market was irregular. The To-ledo, St. Louis and Western 4s rose 5 points, and later loss the advance. Total sales, par value, $1,417,000. United States bonds were unchanged on cail.

New York, August 29—Money on call steady at $4,029; ruling rate, 25; closing, 24,029; Time loans, easier; sixty days, 34; innery days, 44,049; six months, 5 per cent. Prime moreantile paper, 55,089; per cent. Sterling exchange weak at $4,8275 for sixty day bills and at $4,8800 for demand. Commercial bills, $4,824. Bar sliver, 59%; Mexican dollars, 46. Government bonds steady; railroad bonds irregular.

COTTON MARKETS.

New York, Adviust 22—The cotton market was unsettled by heavy realizing during today's trading. With American futures markets closed from to-night until next Tuesday morning, and with the government's September condition figures due at noon on that day, the disposition to take profits on recent purchases was not considered unnatural, and builtship disposed traders claimed that frees buying for long account was restricted to some extent by the approaching holidays. Offerings were well enough taken by built support and covering to give the market a steady undertone at a decline of 1831s points from the closing figures of last

New York, August 29.—Cotton goods values pointed upward. Manufacturers were not disposed to necept contracts except at advances of 1,694c, a yard. A lot of business was declined again because mill agents had been ordered not to take orders except at the advances. There was more business for China done, but it was chiefly on special brands. The volume was comparatively small. Staple men's wear was in good demand for spring. The demand for silks and ribbons for the next spring season is broadening.

Weckly Cotton Review.

Weckly Cotton Review.

New York, August 29.—The cotton market has been very active during the past week with prices making new high records, owing to continued unfavorable crop reports and a broadening demand for long account. The highest level was reached on Thursday, following reports from Washington that the cotton futures amendment to the tariff bill would probably be materially modified by a reduction in the proposed tax, and while reduction in the proposed tax, and while cotton futures amendment to the tariff bill would probably be materially modified by a reduction in the proposed tax, and while there was heavy realizing for over the Labor Day adjournment, the close to-day was within 15 or 29 points of the best. The continued dry, hot weather in the Southwest seems to have been largely responsible for the reduction in estimates of the crop. Private condition figures issued during the week have indicated a falling off in the prospect of about 10 per cent during August, thus suggesting a government report at noon next Tuesday of between 83 and 70 per cent. Such a condition would compare with 79.6 last month, 74.8 in 1912, 73.2 in 1911, and a ten-year average of 74.7 per cent. According to a statement recently published by Washington authorities a condition of 100 at the date of the September bureau would indicate a crop of under 14,000,000 bales on this year's estimated area of 35.622.000 acres. Many local buils seemed inclined to admit that the advance of the week had prepared the speculative trade for a low September figure, but based their predictions of still higher prices on the ground that the world splinners had not yet accepted the reduced views of the crop, and were but poorly provided against their prospective needs. Expectations that further evidences of a disappointing crop might bring manufacturers into the market consequently seemed to be one of the chief inspirations on the buil side, while bearish operators were talking a reduced short interest, the increasing new crop movement, and still contended that large Eastern belt crops would partly off-set Western belt deteriorations.
